Key Takeaways

6-core cables in Malaysia are widely available for industrial, networking, and control applications, with options including shielded, unshielded, and LAN-specific cables. Types of 6-Core Cables1. Multicore Cables: These are general-purpose 6-core cables suitable for industrial and electrical wiring.

They are available from brands like Alpha Wire, Multicomp Pro, Lapp, Belden, and PRO Power and can be purchased through suppliers such as element14 Malaysia. They are ideal for applications requiring multiple conductors in a single cable sheath. 2.

Shielded Cables: Shielded 6-core cables are designed to withstand voltage fluctuations, harsh environments, and heat, making them suitable for sensitive electrical, audio, or instrumentation applications. They often feature copper conductors, PE insulation, aluminium foil shielding, and LSZH outer jackets for durability and safety. These cables are particularly useful in environments with electromagnetic interference (EMI).

N / Reduced Wiring Network Cables: For networking or industrial automation, 6-core LAN cables are available, providing reduced wiring solutions for control systems. These cables are optimized for data transmission and often come with short lead times, free CAD downloads, and no minimum order quantity from suppliers like MISUMI Malaysia.

Key Specifications

Conductor Material: Copper (solid or stranded)Insulation: PE (Polyethylene) or LSZH (Low Smoke Zero Halogen)Shielding: Aluminium foil or braided shielding for EMI protectionVoltage Rating: Varies by cable type; shielded cables can handle higher voltagesApplications: Audio, control, instrumentation, industrial automation, LAN networksPurchasing Options in Malaysiaelement14 Malaysia: Offers a wide range of 6-core multicore and Belden cables with fast delivery and technical support.

MISUM

I Malaysia: Provides LAN and industrial 6-core cables with free shipping and CAD resources. Lazada Malaysia: Offers 6-core shielded cables in various lengths and specifications for general electrical and industrial use. Norden Communication: Supplies 6-core 22 AWG shielded solid conductor cables suitable for audio, control, and instrumentation purposes.

When selecting a 6-core cable, consider the application environment, voltage requirements, shielding needs, and flexibility to ensure optimal performance and safety.
