Key Takeaways

Optical trunk cable prices vary widely, from $30 for standard MPO factory-direct cables to $170 for premium MTP options, with costs influenced by fiber count, connector type, cable length, and quality. Price Ranges by Cable TypeStandard MPO Trunk Cables: Factory-direct prices start around $30 for basic 8–24 fiber configurations, suitable for general 40G/100G network connections.

Premium MT

P Trunk Cables (US Conec): High-end options can cost $55–$170 depending on fiber count, quality of connectors, and vendor. Pre-assembled Trunk Cables: Configurable lengths from 10 meters up to 200 meters with LC or SC connectors; prices increase with length, fiber count, and multimode/singlemode type.

Factors Affecting Pricing

Fiber Count: Common options include 8, 12, 16, 24, or 48 fibers per trunk. Higher fiber counts increase cost. Connector Type: LC, SC, or MPO/MTP connectors; premium connectors like US Conec MTP are more expensive.

Cable Mode: Singlemode (OS2) cables are generally more expensive than multimode (OM1–OM5) due to longer transmission distances and lower attenuation. Cable Length: Longer cables are priced incrementally; for example, EFB-Elektronik offers 10-meter increments up to 200 meters. Sheath and Durability: Double-jacket or crush-resistant designs for cabinet-to-cabinet or industrial applications may increase cost.

Typical Market Examples

Short Multimode MP

O Trunk (10–20 meters, 12 fibers, standard connectors): ~$30–$50 per cable.

Medium-

Length Singlemode MT

P Trunk (50–100 meters, 24 fibers, premium connectors): ~$100–$150 per cable.

Long High-

Density Trunk (200 meters, 48 fibers, LC connectors, double-jacket): Can exceed $170 depending on vendor and quality.

Where to Source

Factory Direct: Offers the lowest prices for standard MPO cables, ideal for bulk purchases. Distributors and Online Marketplaces: Platforms like Octopart and Alibaba provide a wide range of pre-assembled and custom trunk cables with datasheets and pricing comparisons. Custom Configurations: Vendors like EFB-Elektronik allow you to configure fiber count, connector type, and length to match specific network requirements, which may slightly increase cost but reduce installation effort.

By considering these factors, you can select trunk optical cables that balance performance, durability, and cost for your network deployment.
