Key Takeaways

Gigabit single-mode SFP transceivers typically range from $15 to $50 per module, depending on distance, brand, and features. Pricing OverviewFS.com offers 1G single-mode SFP transceivers for distances from 10 km up to 160 km, with prices generally starting around $20–$40 per module depending on the model and wavelength. Mouser Electronics lists single-mode fiber optic transceivers with detailed datasheets and pricing, typically in the $15–$50 range, depending on manufacturer and specifications.

Lanshack provides long-distance 1G single-mode SFP transceivers supporting 10 km to 180 km, compatible with Cisco and other devices, with prices generally around $25–$45 per unit. Amazon offers single-mode SFP modules compatible with major brands like Cisco and Ubiquiti, with prices starting at approximately $20 per module, though prices vary by vendor and shipping. Fiber24 provides a wide selection of single-mode SFP transceivers, emphasizing hot-swappable modules for Gbit/s speeds, with pricing in the $20–$50 range depending on distance and connector type.

Key Considerations

Distance Support: Modules vary from 10 km to 180 km; longer distances generally cost more. Connector Type: LC Duplex is most common; LC Simplex is available for specific applications. Compatibility: Ensure the transceiver is compatible with your network hardware (Cisco, Ubiquiti, Juniper, etc.).

Hot-

Pluggable: Most modules support plug-and-play installation without powering down equipment. Vendor Selection: Prices may vary slightly depending on vendor, warranty, and shipping options. For a precise quote, it is recommended to select the specific distance and connector type required and request a bulk or single-unit price from vendors like FS, Mouser, or Fiber24.

This ensures compatibility and the most accurate pricing for your deployment.
