Key Takeaways

Hutaib Electrical and Legrand are among the top choices for high-quality wire mesh cable trays in East Africa, offering durable, standards-compliant, and customizable solutions.

Regional Manufacturers

Hutaib Electrical is a prominent African-based manufacturer with operations in South Africa and distribution across the continent, including East Africa. They specialize in a wide range of cable tray systems, including wire mesh cable trays, basket trays, ladder trays, and perforated trays. Their products are available in finishes such as GI hot-dip, pre-galvanized, powder-coated, and stainless steel (SS-202/304/316), ensuring durability in diverse climates.

Hutaib also provides customized trays and accessories like bends, elbows, tees, and reducers, making them suitable for industrial, commercial, and infrastructure projects. Africoil and El Sewedy Electric are other regional manufacturers supplying cable trays across Africa. They offer industrial-grade solutions for energy, telecommunications, and construction sectors, though their focus is broader than wire mesh trays specifically.

Global Brands with East African PresenceLegrand (Cablofil) is a global leader in wire mesh cable trays, known for innovative designs, excellent ventilation, and accessibility. Their products are widely used in commercial and industrial applications, including data centers and infrastructure projects in Africa. Eaton and Panduit also provide premium wire mesh trays with high load capacity, seismic performance, and secure cable retention, suitable for mission-critical installations.

These brands are often available through regional distributors in East Africa.

Key Considerations

When selecting a manufacturer in East Africa, consider: Compliance with standards: Ensure trays meet international or regional standards for safety and durability. Material and finish: Stainless steel or powder-coated trays are preferable in humid or coastal regions. Customization: Ability to provide bends, reducers, and other accessories for complex installations.

Delivery and support: Regional manufacturers like Hutaib can offer faster delivery and local technical support compared to global brands.

Recommendation

For East African projects requiring high-quality wire mesh cable trays, Hutaib Electrical is a strong regional option for both standard and customized solutions. For premium global standards and advanced designs, Legrand, Eaton, and Panduit are recommended, often available through local distributors. Combining regional availability with global quality ensures reliability, durability, and compliance with project requirements.
